

Be in the Know

We love connecting you with the information you need. We especially want you to know about all the things you can use and do at the library. Did you know you can check out a GoPro camera? Request a private meeting room? Borrow a charger if you forgot yours? Get one-on-one help with technology?

Inside this issue you'll learn more about using your library and meet some of the people who can help answer your questions.

Get Stuff

The library is full of books, movies, music. We also have tech gadgets like GoPro video cameras and WiFi hotspots, STEAM kits filled with things like air quality detectors and Hapi mini drums, and other stuff like umbrellas and bike locks that you can check out and take with you. It's a lot!

Finding

There are three main ways to find things:

Look around for things that catch your eye  on our shelves and displays.

 Search our catalog if you're hunting for something specific.

Let us help you find just the right thing by asking a staff member for an expert recommendation.

Once you have your items, use the self-check machines near either library entrance to check them out.

Reserving

If what you want isn't immediately available, you can log into your library account and place items on hold. We'll send you an email when they're ready for you, and you'll have seven days to pick them up. If you selected pickup at the library, your items will already be checked out to you. Just grab them from the shelves near the west entrance. If you selected pickup at the bookmobile, visit any of our scheduled stops. Learn more about the bookmobile: skokielibrary.info/bookmobile

Renewing and Returning

We'll renew your eligible items for you automatically. Most things can be renewed up to three times if no one else is waiting. We don't charge overdue fines. If something is more than 21 days overdue, you won't be able to check out or renew anything until you return the overdue item.

Return things any time in the book drops on the south driveway of the library or at the southeast corner of the building. You can also return things inside either entrance when the library is open, or bring them to the bookmobile at any of its stops.

Make Something

From sewing machines to hand looms to 3D printers to laser engravers, we have all kinds of equipment for you to explore. Adults and teens can visit the Studio on our second floor for a selection of introductory ready-to-make projects that you can drop in and try anytime. Our staff is always on hand to guide you through. Kids in grades K–8 will find interactive learning experiences in the BOOMbox.

Get Expert Help

Our staff can help you find an absolutely perfect book or movie, and we can also help you find answers to your questions about...almost anything! Maybe you're looking for a job, starting or running a business, trying to become a US citizen, are a parent or caregiver in need of support, or you're just stuck on a homework problem?

Wherever you're starting from, and whatever you want to learn to get there, we're here with you.

We have resources for all of these and more:

Personal finances and taxes

Consumer information

Elections and voter information

Health and medicine

Real estate

Family history

Learn Something New

Get some fresh air in one of our courtyards.

Kids and families will find fun toys and activities in our play area.

Hang Out

If you just need a place to be, welcome to your library! The library has tons of comfy places to read, play, chat, and relax.

Teens have a home of their own on the first floor, complete with a video game lounge.

Café and vending machines

Second floor reading room, great for quiet contemplation.

There is lots of seating near the magazines and newspapers.

Information Services Specialist

What brings me joy about my work is seeing patrons use a new computer skill I've shown them, or seeing a patron discover a new interest. We provide so many great resources and activities—tech classes, internet access, 3D printing, faxing documents—the available resources really surprise a lot of people.

Currently reading: Ten Steps to Nanette by Hannah Gadsby, among other things

Martha

Information Services Specialist

I enjoy working through a problem alongside a patron; whether it's figuring out how to redeem a birthday coupon for free pancakes, scanning documentation to apply for citizenship, or helping people through the job search process.

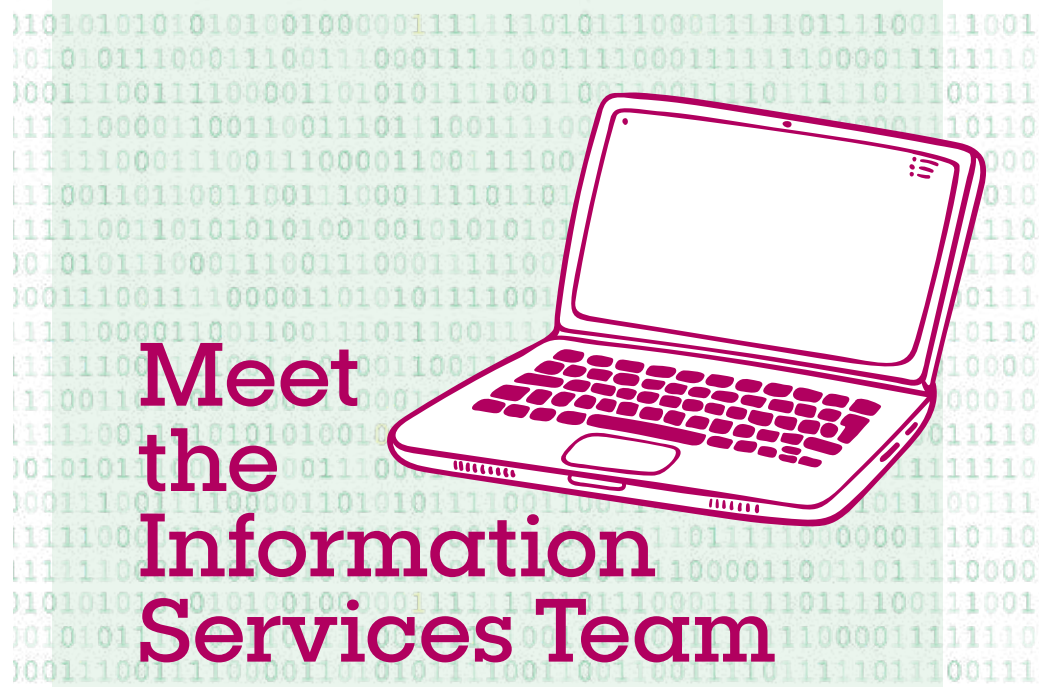

Amy

Information Services Supervisor

Currently reading: The Body Keeps the Score by Bessel Van Der Kolk, M.D.

The Information Services team is a joy to work with, with a lot of unique strengths and an amazing willingness to go the extra mile to help people. And we get some equally wonderful patrons who visit us at the desk. I've always loved the "you never know who will walk in" nature of libraries, and the Skokie community is gracious and kind. Plus, people have really interesting questions sometimes!

Meet the Information Services Team

Members of our Information Services team, who you can find at the second floor help desk, are adept at finding answers to all kinds of questions. They can help you troubleshoot computer problems; print, copy, and fax; answer research questions; book study rooms; and, of course, find and recommend nonfiction books, magazines, and newspapers. They also lead technology classes and other events, and offer help and training on using our databases and research tools.

Exploring the Second Floor: Technology

In addition to being home to most of our nonfiction books and study rooms, the second floor offers technology that can help with many day-to-day needs. Is your home printer out of ink? Is your internet on the fritz? We can likely help you get done what you need to get done.

Copying–Scanning–Faxing

Whether you have paper and need paper copies or have paper and need a digital copy to save, email, or fax, we've got you covered. Outbound faxing is free. We aren't able to accept inbound faxes, though. There are lots of options, so feel free to ask staff at the Help Desk to narrow down the options to the one you need.

Computers

Desktop computers are available for you to use to browse, fill out online applications, shop, print a boarding pass, or whatever you need to do. If you prefer to sit elsewhere in the building, Chromebooks are available for in-library use.

Printing

You can print in black and white or color from a library computer or a mobile device.

Old-fashioned Technology

Microfilm and microfiche still exist, and we have readers for both types of film storage.

Accessories

Forgot your phone charger? We've got some to lend.

Need to read something tiny that's straining your eyes? Ask for a magnifier.

Need to get rid of paper that includes sensitive personal information? Use our shredder.

Have a disk but a laptop with no disk drive? Borrow a portable disk drive.

Prefer a mouse to a laptop navigation pad? We have mice you can use.

Anything else? Just ask—we may have it.

Individual Help with Technology

On Wednesday afternoons, 3–5 pm, come to the Help Desk to sign in for a one-on-one session with staff. When demand is high, we may need to limit sessions to 15 minutes.

Technology Classes

We offer classes ranging from computer basics to intermediate spreadsheet skills, word processing to photo editing. See page 12 for the current lineup.

Favorite resource: The library's digital collections on local history

Perry

Information and Research Librarian

When your question requires a bit more digging, I'm one of the people doing the research and getting back to you. I enjoy weirdly specific local history questions. Someone asked us about the history of an apartment building in Skokie, and it turned out we had a 1929 ad for it in our digital collections.

Information Services Specialist

I enjoy helping people and sharing technical knowledge. My job enables me to do both. I also enjoy working with my teammates—they're awesome. There are so many classes and resources offered here in the library that people will find helpful and useful.

Favorite resource for repair guides: ifixit.com

I love trying to figure out the answer to a difficult question. It's like solving a tricky puzzle, and even if I can't find the answer right then and there, I always learn something along the way. It can sometimes feel like being a detective in a noir movie!

Brad

Information and Research Librarian

Currently reading: Game of Thrones

The great part about my job is that every day is different since I work with the public and I always learn something new. For example, someone recently asked where to find great tacos.

Sargon

Information Services Specialist

Currently watching: Gangs of London

I love working the desk and helping patrons connect with the correct information. It's extremely rewarding—though I wasn't able to fulfill someone's request for Elton John and his band members' phone numbers!

September Is Library Card Sign-up Month

Your library card connects you to a world of resources and learning. It's free, it never expires as long as you live in Skokie, and we don't charge overdue fines on anything, ever.

Register for a card at one of our first floor help desks, or start the process online:
skokielibrary.info/library-cards
